Dear Members:

Communication can be categorized into three basic types: (1) verbal, in which you listen to a person to understand their meaning; (2) written, in which you read their meaning; and (3) non verbal, in which you observe a person and infer meaning. Positive communication is important to our club as it creates better relationships, increases innovation and builds trust.

Our committee chairs work diligently to cultivate relationships with the community fund sources, which has afforded us so many opportunities to raise funds and give back to our community. The organizers of the events work very hard and long hours to ensure the event runs as smoothly as possible, however challenges do happen. If we criticize event organizers and treat them poorly, our relationships and opportunities are harmed. If there is a concern when you are working an event, it needs to be brought to the attention of the chair(s) so they can resolve the issue.

Unfortunately, committee chair(s) are experiencing situations where committee members are not responding to communications. Committee chair(s) are depending on you so please respect them with a response.

Items will be collected for the Thanksgiving Food Baskets at the November luncheon. Your contributions will have an impact on many families.

"October Luncheon at Runaway Island, A Glimpse into Resilience"

What an unforgettable luncheon we shared at Runaway Island on October 5th. All dressed in shades of pink to honor Breast Cancer Awareness Month, we had the privilege of hosting a truly remarkable and inspiring speaker, Jessica Foster. A beloved local figure renowned for her role as a morning news anchor on Channel 7, WJHG TV, Jessica generously shared her incredible journey of discovery and resilience in her battle against breast cancer.

Her story was one of inspiration and determination, which showed the remarkable strength of the human spirit and the vital importance of self-examinations and regular mammogram screenings.

Jessica's cancer journey began with a routine breast exam, during which she discovered a lump that would forever alter her life and begin her remarkable journey of strength, resilience, and hope. The noncancerous lump was found when Jessica was 30, which led to her having yearly mammograms earlier than the usual recommendation. Five years later, during a routine mammogram, tiny calcifications were detected, which turned out to be breast cancer. The calcifications were so small ...they couldn't even be felt. Diagnosed as coming from a specific genetic mutation that was inherited, Jessica recounted the emotional rollercoaster she experienced, the numerous medical appointments, surgery, and the moments of fear and uncertainty that she faced going forward.

The bright light that shined throughout her story was her unwavering determination to fight her battle with courage and grace and be an example to her daughter and everyone around her. She reminded us that it was not just about surviving, but about living life to its fullest every day and acknowledging the plan that God had for her life.

Many of our members could relate to her story, as they too have faced cancer concerns firsthand or know of someone who has. Jessica's words served both as motivation and an important reminder to regularly perform self-examinations and schedule routine screenings. The importance of early detection could not be stressed enough.

As we reflect on Jessica's story, we want to express our deepest gratitude for her remarkable courage, sincerity, and unwavering commitment as a spokesperson for breast cancer awareness. We are not only fortunate to have her as a champion for breast cancer but also as a news anchor for our community. As some of our ladies said, it is a joy to start the day by tuning in early and see her smiling face.

Inspired by Jessica's journey, let us carry the spirit of resilience and unity forward, and remember that we can be a source of strength for one another. Stay strong, stay healthy, do your self-exams, and schedule your screenings as recommended.

Thank You

We extend our heartfelt gratitude to all our members who joined us and participated in our October luncheon. A special appreciation goes out to Roberta Bernhardt for her exceptional coordination of the fantastic venue, Runaway Island. We would also like to express our sincere thanks to Julie Sanders for arranging our featured speaker, Jessica Foster, and to Nancy Stovall for generously providing the pink bracelets for our members to wear in support of breast cancer. Many thanks to Rhonda Senkbeil for donating the lovely fall flowers that graced our tables and we gave as door prizes. To all - your contributions made this event truly special.

Navigating Rising Costs: Sustaining Affordable Monthly Luncheons for the Women's Civic Club

Dear Women's Civic Club Members,

We wanted to share some important news concerning our luncheons for the upcoming year. We place a huge importance on our gatherings as they hold immense value and play a vital role in the life of the club, and they remain of utmost importance to us.

Our committee is dedicated to providing you with an enjoyable and memorable luncheon experience each month during our cherished traditional season. We have some great venues set up for the remainder of our 2023-2024 year but want you to know that we have been facing a common dilemma as you probably already are aware; the rising cost of luncheons and venues. The rise in venue charges can be attributed to various factors, with increases in food costs and labor costs being among the primary contributors.

While the lunches and programs committee diligently strive to efficiently handle cost and logistical considerations, we believe it would be wise to enact a solution for the 2024-2025 year by limiting our luncheon options to a predetermined set of venues throughout the nine-month period, departing from our usual practice of changing venues on a monthly basis.

The encouraging update is that we have established strong partnerships with several of our trusted venues, and we are delighted to share that some of them have indicated their willingness to collaborate with us in order to maintain competitive pricing. Through our commitment to recurring use, we can engage in more favorable price negotiations.

We understand that the quality of our luncheons is important to you, and we want to assure you that we are doing everything possible to maintain the high standard you expect and keep the cost of lunch under the $30 price.

If you have any suggestions or would like to provide feedback on the luncheon venues, please do not hesitate to reach out to me, Jane Fillingim, chair, Lunches and Programs. 850-499-0223. We welcome your input as we navigate these changes.

We look forward to sharing more delicious luncheons and memorable moments with you in the future.

With Profound Appreciation,
Jane Fillingim

The Pirates of the High Seas and Renaissance Fest

Flo Watson, Carol Metaxas

First, we want to thank all of you who were able to work at Pirates of the High Seas and Renaissance Fest. We had two locations (the merchandise tent and the beer tent) going all weekend and it was a lot of hard work and fun. With the beautiful weather, we were extremely busy, so we did not get many photos. But we appreciate all who worked and the husbands who joined us.

Now we're on to the next event and that is preparation of the s'mores kits for Home for the Holidays. We have been tasked with making 4,000 kits this year. We will be working on Monday, November 20 and Tuesday, November 21 in three shifts. On Monday there will be a 9:00 a.m.-1:00 p.m. shift and a 1:00 p.m. - 5:00 p.m. shift. On Tuesday there will be a 9:00 a.m. - 1:00 p.m. shift. (Of course if you'd like to work more than one shift, you'll be sure to get "brownie" points!) We will be working at the Leistner's.

Due to the number of smores required, this is one of our all-hands-on-deck tasks, so any help you can give will be greatly appreciated. If you have neighbors, friends, relatives who would like to work with you, just let us know when you respond. Please RSVP with your availability to Sue at ssjiles@aol.com or 770- 364-5890, or Cheri at Cheri@advantagesoutheast.com or 502-296-3205 .
